The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, June 5. 1707.

From the Ant. and Amſt. Cour. June 10 and 11.

Madrid, May 21.

THE Queen (who is gone with Child above 7 Months) has ſent the Duke of Berwick a Service of Gold and a Ring, worth together ('tis ſaid) 75000 Pieces of Eight, in Acknowledgement of the great Service perform'd by him in the Battle of Almanza. Conſiderable Sums are ſent to the Duke of Oſſuna and the Marquiſſes de Bay and Risbourg, for paying the Troops with which they are entring Portugal. The Chevalier d'Asfeld began the 15th Inſtant to employ 14 heavy Cannon againſt the Caſtle of Xativa, ſo that we expect to hear very ſpeedily of its being taken. The Enemy's Fleet has put new Succours of Men and Ammunition into the Caſtle of Alicant and into Denia. The Earl of Galway and the Marquis das Minas are in Tortoſa, and their Engliſh, Dutch, and Portugueſe Troops, being reinforc'd by ſeveral thouſand Catalonians, intrench themſelves at Campredo between Tortoſa and Ampoſta on the other ſide of the Ebro. The Duke of Berwick with the Army he commands was near Villa Luenga the 16th Inſtant, and had ſent a ſtrong Detachment towards San Matteo, to guard a Convoy of Proviſions into Peniſcola, which is a ſtrong maritime Fortreſs on the furtheſt Edge of the Kingdom of Valencia; and during the War has held out for King Philip. 'Tis adviſ'd from Badajox and Alcantara, that the Portugueſe have put ſtrong Garriſons into Olivenza, Elvas, and Almeida; and keep a good Number of Men at work on the Fortifications of Guarda and Alfaites. The King has order'd that 50000 Maſſes ſhall be ſaid here in the Church of the Imperial College for the Souls of thoſe that were ſlain on our ſide in the Battle of Almanza. The Marquis de Crevecoeur who brought the News hither of the Reduction of the City of Valencia, is made a Brigadier. The 15th and 16th Inſtant 2 of the Enemy's Squadrons were ſeen off Tariffa ſtanding down the Streights, the firſt conſiſted of 30 Sail; but it grew dark as the other was paſſing by, ſo that the Number of Ships could not be told. Two of thoſe Ships chac'd an Advice-Boat bound from Cartagena in the Weſt Indies for Cadix and took her, but her Crew got into their Boat with the Letters and landed with them at Conil.

From the Paris Mercure for May.

From the Camp before Saragoſſa, May 26. 'Yeſterday at 5 in the Morning we march'd from within 3 Leagues of this City, with all our Horſe in Battallia in 2 Columns, over a ſpacious Plain. Within half a League of this Place, our Huſſars who were the Vanguard, detach'd 20 Men with as many Spaniſh Dragoons, to attack about 150 of the Enemy's Horſe who were on a Hill obſerving us, and who would not ſtand them but retir'd from Hill to Hill. The Duke of Orleans made a Halt with his Horſe for ſome time, to wait for his Foot who were not to put themſelves in Motion till 2 Hours after us. A Peaſant that came out of Saragoſſa was brought to his Royal Highneſs, and reported, that there was no Talk in Saragoſſa of our Approach, becauſe the General of the Rebels took Care to conceal all things; which made us conclude, that a Trumpeter who was ſent in the Morning to ſummons the City, fell into his Hands, becauſe he did not return. We were inform'd likewiſe, that the ſaid General had with him but 4000 Foot and 2000 Horſe. Yet that was a great Number to defend a Town againſt us, who had but 13 Battalions and 23 Squadrons. However the Duke of Orleans caus'd all his Horſe to march on the Hills, that they might be ſeen from the Town. Our foremoſt Horſe being come to the Hill on which ſtands the common Gallows, heard a great Noiſe; it came from our Huſſars, who had entred the Suburbs in Purſuit of the 150 Horſe, and who notwithſtanding the Fire made upon them by ſome Grenadiers and Townſmen follow'd them to the very Gate, kill'd the commanding Officer of the Grenadiers and 5 or 6 others, and wounded above 30; with no more Loſs than of a Captain of Huſſars dangerouſly wounded. I was pretty near the Place, with the Duke of Orleans who led our Van of Horſe. We ſtopp'd for a Quarter of an Hour after the Action, and his Royal Highneſs went into a Convent, where we now are, to take ſome Refreſhment while the reſt of our Horſe were coming up. His Royal Highneſs gave the wounded Officer of the Huſſars 30 Piſtoles. We reckon'd we ſhould wait here ſome Time for our Cannon, which could not joyn us under 4 Days; but we were deceiv'd: The Boldneſs of our Huſſars had ſo terrified the Inhabitants of Saragoſſa, that within 2 Hours they offer'd to ſubmit, the Rebels having in that Time retir'd over the Ebro. The Fort of the Inquiſition was put into our Hands, and three Gates of the City, in which 'tis reſolv'd none ſhall enter till the Burghers are diſarm'd: We ſhall ſurround the City to Day, and then ſhall diſarm them.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated June 10.

Leghorne, May 21. The 15th of this Month, the Dolphin and the Fame Zealand-Privateers, brought in hither a French Merchant Ship bound from Alexandria for Marſeilles, having a Cargo on board worth above 70000 Pieces of Eight. The 19th 2 Engliſh Frigates brought in 2 French Tartans bound from Scandaroon, whoſe Lading, conſiſting of 120 Bales of Silk and of other Merchandize, is valued at 80000 Pieces of Eight. They took thoſe 2 Tartans out of the Road of Piombino where they had taken Refuge, after having ruin'd the Caſtle of that Place and ſeveral Houſes of the Town with cannonading.

nonading. Two Engliſh Merchant Ships that are juſt arriv'd from England, took in their Voyage two French Tartans, which they ranſom'd, and have brought the two Maſters hither with them.

From the Amſterdam Courant, &c, dated June 9.

Zurich, May 28. They write from Berne, that the French having for ſome time much interrupted the Commerce of the Country of Vaud and Geneva, by ſtopping and ſearching Boats that paſs upon the Lake, and forcing out of them what Paſſingers they thought fit; the Council of Bern ſent Deputies lately to the French Ambaſſadour at Soluthurn, to complain of thoſe Inſults and demand Redreſs. But thoſe Deputies could obtain no plain and poſitive Anſwer from that Ambaſſador, and are return'd home: 'Tis reported, that on their repreſenting to him, that their Principals would be oblig'd for the Security of their Boats, to order them to carry Guns and fire upon any who ſhould preſume to ſtop them, his Excellency anſwer'd, 'It ſeems Gentlemen, you 'fancy you have an Abbot of St. Gall to deal with.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated June 11.

Zurich, June 1. The French continuing to ſearch the Boats that paſs on the Lake of Geneva, the Regents of Bern have actually commanded the Maſters of their Boats to carry Guns, and fire upon any that offer to moleſt them; but to be careful not to be the firſt Aggreſſors.
